

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Foundation for the History of Women in Medicine Announces Award Recipients

NADYA CLARK AND JENNIFER CABRAL NAMED 2008
MARIA CERNEY BRABB SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS

Philadelphia –July 7, 2008 The Foundation for the History of Women in Medicine announced Nadya Clarke and Jennifer Cabral, both Drexel University College of Medicine medical students, as the 2008 Maria Cerney Brabb Scholarship recipients.

Ms. Clarke, a fourth year student, and Ms. Cabral, a second year student, each received a $2,000 scholarship for the 2008-09 academic year.

Ms. Clarke and Ms. Cabral will be honored during the 10th Anniversary celebration at The Foundation for the History of Women in Medicine's annual Alma Dea Morani, M.D. Renaissance Woman Award and Lecture Presentation on October 1, 2008 at The College of Physicians of Philadelphia. This event will kick off The Foundation's 10th Anniversary Year celebrating the accomplishments and successes of this special organization.

The Foundation strives to establish strong relationships with partners such as The College of Physicians of Philadelphia, The Archives for Women in Medicine (AWM) at the Countway Library's Center for the History of Medicine at Harvard Medical School, and the Association of American Medical Colleges in order to create collaborative programs that focus on advancing our mission: to preserve and promote the history of women in medicine and the medical sciences.

For more information about The Foundation for the History of Women in Medicine please visit our website at www.fhwim.org.