

Foundation for the History of Women in Medicine

To promote and to preserve the history of women in medicine and the medical sciences.

The 10th Annual Alma Dea Morani, M.D. Renaissance Woman Award

This year we will be honoring Carol C. Nadelson, M.D., Professor of psychiatry at Harvard Medical School and Director of Partner Office for Women's Careers at Brigham and Women's Hospital. Dr. Nadelson will be receiving the Alma Dea Morani, M.D. Renaissance Woman Award and presenting her talk: "Women in Medicine: Pathway to Leadership."

To receive an invitation to the event, contact the Foundation at fhwm@burkhartgroup.com or 610-970-9143.

We Can Do More!

According to our current partners, the Foundation is making an indelible mark on the preservation and promotion of the history of women in medicine. They only wish we could do more. So do we!

Your support enables us to continue our

- Research Fellowships which focus on women in medicine and women's health.
- Oral History Projects which transform shoe boxes of cassette tapes into a usable database of sound clips.
- Awards, Honors and Scholarships which recognize and honor stellar women in medicine.

Please support the 2009 Foundation annual appeal with your gift to the future growth and development of these important programs. With you, our vision will continue to become a reality!

Advertising Opportunity

Don't miss this opportunity to showcase your organization in the Alma Dea Morani Award Program.

approaches to its Oral History project with the aim to build a collection offering both an oral history archive for serious research on the history of women in medicine, and a resource supporting a wide range of organizational, educational, and public communication uses for the stories and wisdom in collected oral histories. With the assistance of The Randforce Associates, the digitizing, annotating, and summarizing of several of our Alma Dea Morani award recipients has been completed and we are excited to inform you that an interactive audio database is now available in our office. This will make it easy to locate, explore, and analyze the interviews, via annotations and summaries contained in the audio database. We hope to have a sample of the audio links available in our next newsletter.

Call for Nominations

The Oral History Committee will be meeting this fall to develop a listing of priority oral history projects. If you know a woman physician or scientist who you feel is worthy of inclusion in our project, please forward her name and a brief description of why she should be interviewed to the Foundation at fhwim@burkhartgroup.com.

There are several options to participate, ranging from a full page add to a business card. You can even use your advertisement to send your congratulations to this year's award recipient, Dr. Carol C. Nadelson.

The deadline for ad submission is Friday, October 2, 2009.
